

Interior Designers Institute of British Columbia (IDIBC) Membership Policies and Procedures Manual

FOREWORD

This manual outlines the Interior Designers Institute of British Columbia (IDIBC) policy and procedures for the Association's Registered, Intern and Student membership categories. The following pages contain an explanation of the benefits and responsibilities of all Members based on their membership category and status. Members are encouraged to become familiar with the website for IDIBC per below.

IDIBC – www.idibc.org

The IDIBC Board of Directors has authority and final responsibility for adoption of policies as recommended by the Membership Committee.

The Policies and Procedures within this manual contain general statements of association policy. They do not include fine details of each policy, form an expression of implied contract, nor promise the policies discussed in it apply in all cases. The association reserves the right to add, revoke or modify policies as required.

Members having questions about the Policies and Procedures shall contact the IDIBC Administrator.

IDIBC MISSION STATEMENT

To promote the health, safety, and welfare of the public and support excellence in Interior Design by regulation of the Interior Design profession in British Columbia.

IDIBC VISION STATEMENT

Interior Designers in British Columbia are recognized by governments, stakeholders and the public as highly competent qualified professionals who have met rigorous education, experience and examination standards.

CODE OF ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

The By-laws of the Society provide that a member may be reprimanded, suspended, or expelled if the member has breached any of the By-laws or any provisions of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct.

The following Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct applies to all IDIBC members involved in the profession of Interior Design. Members may be held responsible for the failure of any person associated with the Member in the practice of Interior Design to comply with the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct.

Members shall not instruct others to carry out on the Member's behalf, either with or without compensation, acts which if carried out by the Member, would constitute a violation of the Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct.

IDIBC members are bound by the Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice. If either are violated, the Member in question may be brought before the Complaints and/or Disciplinary Committees.

The Ethics Committee is responsible for the development and definition of the core values of IDIBC Members and examples of "day to day" ethical behavior.

Each Member of IDIBC must perform to the highest standards of professionalism. Member compliance with the Code of Ethics ensures consistency in professional relationships and distinguishes IDIBC Members from non-members. The focus of ethics in our field of practice ensures public interest is protected in terms of health and safety issues and financial matters.

Members must follow the principles established below when representing the profession and association in dealings with others, which include the following:

- The public or community
- Governing bodies
- Clients
- IDIBC members
- All professionals
- Employees
- Employers
- Manufacturers
- Suppliers

Integrity: All members must conform to the IDIBC Code of Ethics and the Constitution & By-laws of IDIBC in all professional relationships with others.

Honesty: All members must practice truthfulness and fairness in dealing with others, and refuse to engage in fraud or deceit.

Equitable: All Members must be just, impartial and fair in dealings with others.

Accountable: All Members are responsible for their own actions and conduct and are, if required, to give account of their behavior to the IDIBC Complaints and Discipline Committees.

Obligations: All Members have a duty to follow the By-laws of IDIBC, regulatory codes and laws and to protect the health and safety of the public.

Members shall notify the IDIBC Administrator, in writing, of change of address, change in scope of practice or failure to obtain professional liability insurance or request for exemption of insurance.

Members shall reply promptly to any demand for information received from the Administrator related to the professional conduct or competence of the member.

Value: All members must provide quality service that is considered fair and competitive.

Trustworthy: All members must ensure discretion and confidentiality with regard to all professional relationships with others.

By-laws: The IDIBC By-laws set forth the rules of governance for the Association. Full details on the following IDIBC By-laws are available via the web site at www.IDIBC.org

Membership profile privacy and confidentiality: A record must be kept and maintained of each Member's education, employment and examination history for management purposes. All sensitive and personalized information requires will be kept secure from unauthorized access and remain confidential. Membership profile information is maintained within a secure database and physical documents are accessed by authorized personnel only.

IDIBC reserves the right to respond to inquiries regarding pertaining to a Member's category and/or current membership status. Membership details, including contact information, will be included in the IDC Member Directory, unless the Member notifies the IDIBC Administrator in writing to advise otherwise.

It is the obligation of the Member's to keep their profile information current.

MEMBERSHIP STATUS

Active status

An Active Member is one who is in good standing in the Association.

Inactive status

A member who wishes to apply for inactive status, must complete an application available from the IDIBC office or website. Inactive Members must be Registered or Intern Member in good standing in the Association at the time of the application. Inactive members must not be engaged in the practice of interior design due to any of the following reasons:

- currently seeking employment,
- employment is not related to the field of interior design in any capacity (including sales or educator)
- maternity or paternity leave,
- has a debilitating illness or injury
- caregiver leave
- sabbatical
- a return to school as a student

Inactive status is only valid until Dec 31st of the current year. Renewal of Inactive status must be in the form of written request submitted to the Administrator by Jan 15th of each year.

During a term of Inactive Membership, an Inactive Member shall:

1. not engage in the practice of interior design in any capacity.
2. pay the Dues as prescribed by the Board for the Inactive Membership category.
3. not use any Association designation (such as RID, or Intern).
4. not be entitled to vote at Annual or Special Meetings of the Association.
5. not be eligible to hold elected office in the Association.
6. not use IDIBC contract documents or Logo
7. not use stamps for drawings or contracts as issued by IDIBC (if applicable)
8. not be required to complete continuing education units for the 1st year of Inactive Status*
9. consult with their insurance company regarding the status of their professional liability insurance policy during their inactive status and, where required for the protection of clients or the public, hold and maintain such insurance in good standing.

* Members are exempt from completing CEU's for the period of 1 year only. If the term of inactive membership is extended beyond 1 year, CEU's will be required beginning January 2018. The number of CEU's required is equal to that of the category in which you were last a member but would be prorated to not include the 1st year of inactive status. In the case of debilitating illness or injury, special consideration may be granted by the Board upon request. CEU's are important in order to help you remain current in the field of Interior Design while not actively working.

Inactive Members – requesting return to Previous Status

An Inactive Member may return to previous Member status if the request is received within 5 years from date of retirement or inactive status. Please contact the IDIBC office for re-admission. Fees, insurance and CEU requirements will be pro-rated as required.

Non-Resident Status

IDIBC does not have a Non-resident status. Interior Designers who reside outside the Province of British Columbia but practice in the province, are encouraged to obtain an active membership from IDIBC. Non-practicing, non-residents can apply for inactive status, if they plan to return to the province of British Columbia within 5 years.

Resigned Status

A Resignation shall be in writing, submitted to the Administrator, and shall take effect upon receipt by the Administrator. The Member's name and registration number is removed from the Membership roll and the Member shall immediately cease all use of any designations associated with IDIBC including, Registered Interior Designer or RID on all written and verbal communication.

A Member who has resigned from the Association shall not in any way hold out to the public that the Member continues to be a Member of IDIBC or that the Member is in any way affiliated with IDIBC. They must also return the stamp (if issued) and refrain from use of IDIBC's contract documents.

Terminated Status

Termination of membership can occur as a result of the following:

- Non-payment of Dues
- Non-compliance with proof of insurance
- Non-compliance with Ethics and/or Standards of Practice (Discipline)
- Non-compliance of Professional Development reporting – (at the discretion of the board and disciplinary committee).

TERMINATION OF MEMBERSHIP

When membership in the Association is terminated, the Administrator shall remove the name from the Membership roll, and the Member shall immediately cease all use of any designation associated with IDIBC including Registered Interior Designer or RID on all written and verbal communication.

A Member whose membership has been terminated shall not in any way hold out to the public that the Member continues to be a Member of the association or that the Member is in any way affiliated with the association.

NON-PAYMENT OF DUES

Any Member who's Dues remain unpaid by a date set by the Board by resolution each year shall be notified in writing.

The notice shall refer to this Section and advise that if Dues remain unpaid 30 days after the date of the letter, membership shall be terminated without further notice.

There shall be a penalty for late payment of Dues, set by the Board, which shall be outlined in the written notice, and Dues shall not be considered paid in full until receipt of the total amount owing.

NON-COMPLIANCE WITH ETHICS AND/OR STANDARDS OF PRACTICE (DISCIPLINE)

If the Discipline Committee finds that a Member has committed an act of professional misconduct, it may make an order to direct the Administrator to revoke the Member's "In Good Standing" classification.

NON-COMPLIANCE TO NCIDQ EXAMINATION AND BRITISH COLUMBIA BUILDING CODE COURSE - WRITING DEADLINE

Intern members have 5 years from date of admission to the IDIBC to successfully complete all parts of the NCIDQ examination and the BC Building Code Course.

Upon successful completion of the NCIDQ exam and BC Building Code Course, they may apply for Registered Member status. If the intern member fails to complete the NCIDQ/Code requirements in the timeframe allowed, they will be given the option to continue their Intern status. However, the Intern IDIBC annual dues will equal that of a Registered Member. Furthermore, the professional development and insurance requirement will equal that of a Registered Member, but the rights and privileges will remain as per the Intern Membership category. Failure to notify the association of intention to continue under these conditions may result in termination of membership.

REINSTATEMENT OF MEMBERSHIP (lapsed membership, terminated or resignation)

A written request must be submitted to the administrator. Please see below for other requirements based on membership category.

Intern Member

An Intern members reinstating within 1 year (of lapse, termination or resignation) must:

- Submit a letter requesting reinstatement including detailed reasons for request.
- Adhere to association's determination of NCIDQ and BC Building Code examination writing deadline.
